Discover the local area

At the Parador de Soria you will enjoy a unique stay. Its high, strategic location in Soria, next to the ruins of the Castle, looking out over the River Duero, make this Parador the best place to enjoy this city of poets.

A 15 minute walk along wooden walkways takes you to the River Duero. The poet, Antonio Machado used to walk along here with his wife, Leonor, and here you can enjoy the tranquillity which inspired the poet with some of his most popular work. Let us not forget the chapel of San Saturio and the arches of San Juan de Duero.

From the Parador, there is also a path into the city, along which the main square, Plaza Mayor, can be reached in less than 10 minutes. In Soria you can wander along the streets and visit emblematic places such as the Palacio de los Condes de Gómara, as well as trying the typical "torreznos" pork scratchings, the...

What to do in the area

Soria is a city which is rich in natural and historic spaces.

Soria is a synonym with nature: within the province you can enjoy activities such as hiking, caving, trekking with snow shoes in the snow and the initiation of wild mushroom picking, as well as many other activities, all whilst discovering places which are full of history.
